

Two R.C.M.P. Members Promoted In Sidney

SERG. CHAMBERS

CORP. MORRISON

Two members of the Sidney detachment, Royal Canadian Mounted Police, were promoted in rank on Friday, November 3, it has been announced.

S.D. Chambers has been created sergeant in charge of the detachment. He was born in Yorkton, Saskatchewan, and educated there. He joined the R.C.M.P. in November, 1948, and trained at Regina and at Rockcliffe, Ontario. He was stationed in Edmonton and Lac la Biche in Alberta, and in Nelson, New Denver, Creston Valley, Fernie, Atlin, Fort Nelson, and Sidney, in British Columbia. He is married with three children.

Kenneth Morrison has been promoted to corporal. He was born at Brooks, Alberta, and joined the R.C.M.P. in November, 1955. He trained at Rockcliffe, Ontario, and Regina. In his period of service, he has served at McBride, Prince George, Fort Nelson, Prince George subdivision headquarters, Fort St. John, Fort St. James, and Sidney. He is married and has two daughters.

Both promotions were announced on November 3.

REMEMBRANCE DAY

Remembrance Day will be observed throughout the district on Saturday, Nov. 11 with all places of business closed.

In Sidney, members of the Royal Canadian Legion and Army, Navy and Air Force Veterans will parade together to the cenotaph on Sanscha grounds. The parade will form up at 10 a.m. in front of the A.N. and A.F. club on Fourth Street. Ladies' auxiliaries will parade as well.

At the solemn cenotaph service respect will be paid to fallen comrades of past wars and one minute's silence observed. Wreaths will be laid by different individuals and organizations.

Following the service, the veterans will march back to Fourth Street for dismissal of the parade.

60 YEARS MARRIED

Looking hale and hearty at the respective ages of 90 and 91 are Mr. and Mrs. A. Sutor, of 1390 Wains Cross Road, North Saanich, who will be celebrating their 60th wedding anniversary on Nov. 16. Mr. Sutor, a Boer War Veteran, comes from the north of England, and Mrs. Sutor from London. They were married in 1907 in Saskatoon.

MAYOR AND REEVE SEEK RE-ELECTION

Hats of both Mayor A.W. Freeman and Reeve J.B. Cumming are in the ring. With municipal elections this year falling on Saturday, Dec. 9, municipal heads of both the Town of Sidney and the District of North Saanich informed The Review this week that they will offer their services again to their respective areas.

Mayor Freeman was elected two years ago as chairman of the then village commission. Subsequently the village became a town and he automatically became Sidney's first mayor.

Reeve Cumming was chosen by acclamation as North Saanich's first elected reeve two years ago. Previously, in the formative months of the new municipality, Dr. A.B. Nash served temporarily as reeve.

There will be no contest for the reeveship in Central Saanich this year as Reeve R. Gordon Lee was elected last year for a two year term.

In announcing his candidature, Mayor Freeman commented as follows: "I shall be pleased to offer my services to the people of Sidney for another term of office. I feel that the policy I adopted two years ago has been in the interest of the residents; and the Town of Sidney can only benefit by continuing on its present course."

"Many plans have been made and I think that these must be carried out by someone with the experience and knowledge of what these plans entail. The support that I have received over the past two years has been most gratifying and I have been proud to work for and represent the people of Sidney."

Reeve Cumming spoke as follows: "I have enjoyed presiding over the original councils in the fledgling District of North Saanich and have devoted much of my time and experience to its destinies over the past two years. I have reason to believe that the fiscal policies which I have encouraged have given the municipality a sound base on which to grow. If re-elected I will serve, as in the past, to the best of my ability and am prepared to continue to make the reeveship a full time job. Our immediate concern is now the development of our public works department and I am confident that my experience as a former general contractor would be of value in this regard."

At present Reeve Cumming is vice-president of the regional board, chairman of the finance committee of the regional board; chairman of the finance committee of the Capital Region Planning Board; chairman of the hospital survey liaison committee; and chairman of the board for co-ordinating metropolitan health functions for the regional board.

WOOD IS GUEST ARTIST AT SUNDAY SYMPHONY CONCERT IN SIDNEY

Robin Wood, guest artist at the first concert of the Sidney Symphony season, needs no introduction to local audiences. His appearance with the Victoria Symphony Orchestra at Sanscha Hall on Thursday, Nov. 16, is eagerly awaited by those who appreciate his virtuoso playing in the Shostakovich Concerto for trumpet and piano a year ago.

A native of Victoria, Mr. Wood matured his outstanding technique in England, France and Switzerland. He was long resident in London, where he was eventually appointed to the faculty of the Royal Academy of Music after attaining a fellowship, and he has served with distinction as an examiner for the Royal Schools of Music.

After 19 years absence, he returned to Canada in 1965, and was appointed Director of the Victoria School of Music. No

Long Time Union Member

Warren (Bill) Battler, formerly of Stratford, Ontario and now of Sidney, this week celebrates his 50th year as a member of the International Association of Machinists and Aerospace Workers. Mr. Battler, shown above with his wife, retired to Sidney some years ago upon his retirement from Canadian National Railways. They reside on Third Street.

THUMBS DOWN ON JOHN

BARLEYCORN AT BRENTWOOD

Councillor P.F. Benn's advocacy of a liquor store for Brentwood Bay was not supported by Central Saanich council last Monday, although he demonstrated some evidence of public support.

The question had been raised at a previous meeting of council, and it was then agreed that Councillor Benn might make an inquiry of the Liquor Control Board. This he had done, and he reported that a reply was received by return of post. He was informed that the control board is continuously surveying the province, and the assurance was given that Central Saanich has not been overlooked.

"I have had a lot of reaction, most of it favorable," said Councillor Benn.

"So have I, and most of it adverse," countered Councillor Harold Andrew. It was suggested that any further action could best be taken by the Chamber of Commerce.

When Councillor Benn asked whether council wished that he should pursue the matter on his own, Councillor Andrew replied, "the answer is there, what else

MICHELL AGAIN HEADS FAIR

There was a large attendance at the annual meeting of North and South Saanich Agricultural Society at Saanichton last Monday evening, when tributes to the memory of former president, Albert Doney, were heard.

Topic of discussion was the possibility of applying for Class A Fair status; the annual Fair being the biggest Class B Fair in British Columbia.

Bud Michell was elected president by acclamation, with Doug McMillan as vice-president. Board of Directors comprise J.D. Wright, Don Looy, Aubrey Temblett and Mrs. Nora Waincott.

TO LAY WREATHS

Poppy wreaths from the municipality of Central Saanich will be laid at the Remembrance Day ceremonies of Sidney and North Saanich and the municipality of Saanich. Acting-reeve P.F. Benn will represent Central Saanich at Sidney, and Councillor A.M. Galbraith will be present at the memorial service in Saanich.

SIDNEY-NORTH SAANICH REJECT AMALGAMATION

Ratepayers of Sidney and North Saanich went to the polls on Saturday and resoundingly rejected the proposal to unite the two municipalities.

Heaviest opposition to amalgamation came from Sidney where 73 per cent of those casting ballots voted "No". In North Saanich the affirmative vote was considerably higher but 66 per cent of voters registered their disapproval.

Following is the tabular result of the voting:

Municipality	Yes	No	Rejected	Spoiled	Missing
SIDNEY	206	566	14	--	--
NORTH SAANICH	306	597	41	2	1
Totals	512	1,163	55	2	1

Only explanation offered by Returning Officer M.W.E. Allen in North Saanich who turned out the ballot paper away with him rather than depositing it in the ballot box.

The percentage of ratepayers in North Saanich who turned out at the polls was considerably higher than in any previous election in the municipality. In Sidney the vote was exceedingly light. In Sidney returning officer was A.M. Ferner, municipal clerk. No incidents were reported during the day's voting and results were known before 9 p.m.

To The Review on Monday, Mayor A.W. Freeman of Sidney commented as follows: "The results of the recent referendum do not come as a surprise to me. I think that the taxpayers of Sidney and North Saanich have clearly indicated that they do not want to be rushed into a situation. The people were just not prepared to accept a shotgun marriage and I support their feelings. I had hoped for a larger poll on this particular subject and I hope that more people are giving some thought to their municipal affairs than is indicated.

"I trust that we will all learn something from the recent exercise and that both councils will endeavor to improve their working relationship with each other for the future good and harmonious development of the two municipalities."

"I would like at this time to thank the Saanich Peninsula and Gulf Islands Review for the time and space that was contributed in presenting the report and the individual points of view to the public. The coverage was most generous and fair."

Reeve J.B. Cumming of North Saanich commented as follows: "Our purpose in bringing the referendum forward was to secure the views of the people so that we could plan for the future. The people's view has been made eminently clear and, as I see it, future councils will now develop their individual municipalities as separate entities and must plan accordingly. Provision of equipment for public works must be given the highest priority in North Saanich."

Minister of Municipal Affairs, Dan Campbell, who strongly supported the union of Sidney with North Saanich prior to the vote, spoke to The Review on Monday as follows: "The impact of this vote should be put in perspective. In the first place the suggested timing of this vote was not in line with my advice. Secondly, the points on which agreement were firm were not negotiated between the two councils prior to the vote, which I also recommended be done. Thirdly, we have never had a problem with amalgamation votes. If the format suggested by the department was used.

"The effect of the vote will make some joint current problems difficult to resolve. . . . in particular the water problem. I would urge that a joint formal water committee be established, consisting of municipal and improvement district representatives. Secondly I would recommend that the two municipalities formalize a continuing joint committee to review any areas in which duplication of either operating or capital requirements can be avoided."

Autograph Party For New Book

Son of Mr. and Mrs. J.H. Paterson of Cromar Road, Deep Cove, George Paterson, Vancouver engineer, was entertained at an author's autograph party in Cornish's Sidney book store on Friday afternoon last. The function attracted many visitors. Mr. Paterson, a World War II paratrooper, is featured in Brentwood author John Windsor's latest book, "Mouth of the Wolf" now being distributed across Canada by Gray's Pub-

Country Fair Marks Up "Great Success"

Someone dropped the cake. Teacups shook. Children clutched their parents. A rollof drums reverberated through Sanscha Hall, and the Kuper Island School band stepped out into one of the routines they performed at Expo '67 this last summer.

It was an exciting moment, and for the small group of hard-working individuals who had been meeting every week since September to get the giant Peninsula Country Fair off the ground, it was a moment of mixed relief and satisfaction.

The bazaar was a resounding success, gate receipts if not the packed auditorium indicating a record crowd, and booths harput to keep up with the sales. The final count is not yet in, but gross receipts are estimated at close to $2,000.

The affair was sponsored by the combined parishes of Our Lady of Assumption in Brentwood and St. Elisabeth's in Sidney, and the 16 booths, bingo and tea room was convened by members of each parish.

Co-conveners, and always in the lead with their enthusiasm and drive, were Mr. and Mrs. Konrad Welle.

The "lady of many pockets" Mrs. Beverley Laitenan, was spelled off by Marian Hetman. The richly-decorated Christmas bar was convened by Mrs. R. Jones and Mrs. Gloria Tweedhope. Children flocked to the fish pond operated by Mrs. R. Anderson, and Kathy Hermen, and then were joined by adults at the parcel post stall, presided over by Mrs. Frances Worral and Mrs. Lorna Leahy.

Homemade confections and candy were sold by Mrs. Dorothy Wheeler and Mrs. Teresa Douse; the lucky seven booth, convened by Mrs. Jane Tivy; attic treasures sold by Mrs. P. Scardifield and Mrs. L. Shaw; the well-stocked sewing, knitting and toy bar was convened by Mrs. Esther Criss, Mrs. Goodmanson, Mrs. E. Franklin, and Mrs. Cecile Larose; and the penny social table looked after by Mrs. Ina Hetman and daughter Marian. Mrs. R. Patterson did noble service at the children's gift bar.

The popular home baking stall was under the direction of Mrs.

BRIDGE RESULTS

At the weekly play of the Sidney Duplicate Bridge Club on Friday, Nov. 3, at the K of P Hall, results were as follows: 1, Bryon Price and Mike O'Brien; 2, Len and Ruth Hellyer; (3) Jack Woods and Percy Belson; (4) Mary Woods and Alice Belson.

Lois Akum and Mrs. D. Schut. A new addition this year was the delicatessen bar, supervised by Mrs. Mary Wollownick, Mrs. Rose Kennedy, and Mrs. Eileen Buck. Mrs. Laura Biten and Mrs. Clair North convened the cakewalk.

The colorful Indian craft booth with its many display items, gay paper flowers, and projected slides of Indian children, was ably handled by Sister Mary Kenneth, Sister Noel, Sister Joseph, and Sister Rochelle.

Not to be outdone were the men of both parishes. Televisions and appliances were sold by Philip Criss. The garden shop dispensed plants and advice by the managers, E. Van Adrichem and Peter Aardweg. The golf game was handled by Dennis Shaw. Bingo was under the supervision of Naman Tweedhope and D. Pettinger. Al Kynas looked after the lighting and sound system. W. Akum was floor manager.

The hard-pressed tea room was convened by Mrs. Jean Pettigrew and Mrs. Mary Dorrin.

The hall was lavishly decorated in harvest motif by John Ten Have and Mrs. Judy Millelitch. They were assisted by a helpful committee.

Costumes which meant so much to the "old time" atmosphere were found, borrowed, created and contrived by Mrs. Mary Gibbs and Mrs. Dorothy Wheeler. Publicity was handled by Konrad Welle and Mrs. Doreen Hunter.

An outstanding feature this year was the entertainment. It was supplied by the Kuper Island School Band, and colorful dances performed by Chief Hummingbird and his Sun Dancers.

But by 4:30, 500 children had reached the peak of excitement waiting for Peter Rolston of TV fame, and his popular dolls, George and Cindy. Adults kept a safe distance from the insistent young fans, and joined in the general merriment when Peter Rolston, in an effort to calm his noisy audience, asked Michael Akum to shake hands with a girl, and got what must be the most pained expression ever seen on a young boy's face!

Wed At Holy Trinity Church

Harris of 1262 Land's End Road, Sidney, married Robert Calvert Simon of Victoria at an impressive ceremony in Holy Trinity Church, Patricia Bay, on September 30. Rev. Canon F.C. Vaughan-Birch officiated. In the above photograph, the newlyweds are seen leaving the church at the conclusion of the service.

GHOST TROPHY FEATURED

AT GLEN MEADOWS

Edna Hay was elected Captain of the ladies section, Glen Meadows Golf and Country Club at their annual meeting last Thursday. Others elected to the executive were Marg. Robertson, Marg. Sutton and Emma Silverberg.

Among prize winners for the annual events were Marg Robertson, round robin; Edna Hay, eclectic; Marg. Sutton and Emma Silverberg, C.L.G.A. pins.

Mrs. Silverberg also copped the Bell Trophy in the Ghost of Glen Meadows Tournament. On the men's side, Brian Sluggott won the distinction of being first to win the Ghost trophy - a portrait of a sad eyed Scot searching through the mist for a lost golf ball.

The portrait was conceived and painted by Belle Helgason and presented to Percy Criddle as a joke. "You'll feel his sympathetic hand on your shoulder in the rough", she said. So the poor Scot was immediately blamed for snatching balls off the fairway and tossing them into the bushes, bending trees to stop the flight of the ball and placing a ghostly hand over the cup leaving the ball teetering on the edge. But he has also delighted golfers by tossing balls back out of the bushes and with a swirl of his kilt and a strategic kick from his strong Scottish boots has caused a bad approach to trickie

Centennial Project To See Completion Saturday Morning

The successful completion of a local Centennial project will take place Saturday, November 11, when a Canadian maple tree will be planted at the municipal grounds in Sidney.

The tree planting was the idea of Mr. and Mrs. Bob McVey, of 6988 East Saanich Road. Last summer, they drove from Sidney, B.C., to Sydney, Nova Scotia, as a part of their own Centennial year project. At the east coast city, they presented greetings, and collected soil from that province, and nine others to boot.

Saturday, at 11:45 a.m., following local Remembrance Day services, the tree will be planted in the soil of the ten Canadian provinces.

The planting ceremonies will be a joint Rotary Club and Town of Sidney affair, presided over by Rotary president John Bruce and Sidney mayor A.W. Freeman. Sidney Alderman Jack Boshier will be on hand to see that the tree is properly planted.

Prizes Given To Golfers

Ardmore Golf Club members held their annual dinner at The Legion Hall in Sidney on Friday, Nov. 3. There were 90 members present. The president, F. Dutton, conducted the business meeting.

Mrs. N. Camusa, ladies captain gave the address from the ladies division, the Club champion being Mrs. B. du Temple.

D. Donald presented the prizes to the men, the Club champion being Emile Beauchemin. The members then enjoyed a film from the Wonderful World of Golf between Sam Snead and Ben Hogan.

The four horsemen of the Apocalypse wars are depicted as conquest, slaughter, famine and death. In peacetime the horsemen ride as well -- accidents, alcoholism, smoking and obesity. Disease and death ride with them.

MAJOR DRIVE-IN COMPLEX FOR CENTRAL SAANICH IS PLANNED

Plans to develop a $100,000 service station and drive-in complex at the junction of Patricia Bay Highway and Mount Newton Cross Road was received by Central Saanich council last Monday and referred to the Capital Region Planning Board for early attention and a report.

The application refers to 9.66 acres of property on the east side of the highway, a portion of which is zoned commercially. Commercial zoning of the balance of the parcel is sought by the applicant, E.W. Lewis, who stated that the buildings would stand back 200-feet from Patricia Bay Highway.

access would be obtained by driveways from Mount Newton Cross Road, and there would be no approach from the highway. The applicant already has obtained provincial government sanction for the driveways, but it is stipulated that they shall be constructed in the period December 11 to January 11. Purpose of the stipulation was not apparent to the applicant or to council members.

In view of the urgency of the application council will request a planning board recommendation in time for discussion at the next meeting of council.

Mr. Lewis submission to council, Mr. His said that it is intended to remove the old house and barn standing on the property. He remarked that present taxes amount to $347 per annum, and that the project would bring a considerable amount to municipal revenue.

"The high cost of development means that there would be insufficient return from a service station alone. This is the reason for planning a dual project," said Mr. Lewis.

A Warm Tribute

BY STUART G. STODDART

The Saanich Agricultural Society has last week suffered a great personal loss in the passing of Albert Doney, who for nearly 30 years was actively connected with the Society in many capacities, the last position which he held for 15 years being that of President.

During his tenure of office he was instrumental in bringing about important changes and improvements, particularly in the 1950's, which is evident today by the steady progress since achieved by the Society.

In spite of the demands made upon his time as a full time farmer he gave unstintingly of his energy and talents unobtrusively. It is noteworthy to recall that Mrs. Doney is a descendant of Henry Simpson, an old Saanich pioneer, who nearly 100 years ago was a director and one of the organizers of the Saanich Agricultural Society, and who donated the land where the Exhibition is now held annually.

It is, therefore, significant that Mr. Doney has, over the years, contributed in no small measure, in carrying on the tradition of the family, up to the time of his passing.

He also was an active member and officer in the South Saanich Farmer's Institute, and was in fact, interested in all forms of district activities. He also served in the 1st World War and was wounded. His loss to the community will indeed be keenly felt by all who worked with him, and who truly appreciated his many fine qualities.

Solarium Members To Serve Public At Goldstream

Members of the Queen Alexandra Solarium Junior League will once again this year be serving refreshments at Goldstream Park during the salmon run season.

The league, which serves crippled children, each year sells hamburgers, hot dogs, coffee, hot chocolate, and pop as a service to those who visit the park to watch the salmon go upstream to spawn.

This is the eleventh year during which the league members will have done this service.

They will be at the park on Sundays, November 5, 12, 19, and 26, and on Saturday, November 11, Remembrance Day.

In addition to the league, junior members of the Victoria Fish and Game Club will be on hand to protect the spawning fish, as well as act as guides.

BRENTWOOD W.I. MEMBERS TO HEAR SPEAKER

The Brentwood Women's Institute will have as its guest speaker on Monday, November 13, Mrs. A. Sutton, founder of Arbutus Crafts, Workshop for the Disabled.

Arbutus Crafts is a centre for sheltered work and recreation for mentally alert, severely disabled people. A program of training in various crafts provides an outlet for their creative abilities. When the product reaches the Centre's standard, the item is sold and the worker receives 75% of the profits. Among the crafts practised are weaving, mosaic tile, rug hooking, woodworking, chair-sewing, cracker making, basket making, pottery and canvas stretching. A small art class is also carried on where oil painting and fabric design are taught.

The Centre is regulated by a Board of Governors consisting of both able bodied and disabled persons. At least four disabled persons are elected annually to the Board by members of the club. The club, made up entirely of disabled workers, has its own officers and is responsible for all social activities. Rent, heat, light, salaries and office expenses are offset by a grant from the Rehabilitation Foundation of British Columbia; and the cost of materials is destroyed by sales.

A large group of volunteer helpers augment the staff, which consists of a full time woodwork supervisor, a full time craft supervisor, an office manager and a part time occupational therapist. At present there are approximately 45 handicapped members, and handicaps represented include polio, multiple sclerosis, arthritis, amputees, cerebral palsy, Parkinson's Disease, muscular dystrophy and

A Strange Fruit

(This poem was written after hearing Josh White tell how, in his youth, he saw a lynch mob hang a man to a tree.)

What strange fruit is this that swings so freely in the darkening shades of twilight, never hearing the sounds of children
as they play in the shadow of its shape.
Such a strange fruit it is in the darkest night it is still, lit by the fire of a hundred times a hundred hates.
Men gather this fruit, pluck it guiltlessly from the limb of life
And leave it on a tree of death
Dear God, what strange fruit is this.

Thoughts On Bedmaking

One of the best of the humble tasks is this,
Smoothing the sheets where a weary one will lie.
Never a wrinkle must be left to mar
That simple comfort, goal for which we try.
Now the soft blankets' warmth is deftly laid
Over the snowy sheets and tucked in place.
Then come the pillows, plump and round and cool;
Over it all the bedspread's crowning grace.

Poppy Means Remembrance

More than 200,000 Canadians lie buried in graves in 70 different countries, mostly in Europe but many in Asia and even Brazil.

When you are asked to wear a Poppy this year, you will be acknowledging our debt to those who gave their lives to protect our way of life and our basic civic dignity.

Your contributions provide quick help for those veterans who live but can no longer compete, due to injuries or other problems.

Any veteran is entitled to ask for this help which Royal Canadian Legion is dedicated to administer.

As all help is voluntary, only the minimum cost of poppies and administration, is deducted from your contribution.

This year a portion of the money collected will go to the needs of veterans and their dependents in the emerging nations, also towards the building of senior citizens housing.

Remembrance day will end at the eleventh hour of the eleventh day of the eleventh month at Ceremonies to be held at Cenotaphs around the world.

No Amalgamation

Ratepayers of Sidney and North Saanich picked up their ballots and made their wishes perfectly clear on union of the two municipalities. They voted approximately 2 to 1 in opposition to the proposal. North Saanich voters opposed the proposed merger vociferously. And those in Sidney were even louder in their denunciation of the union.

The air is now cleared for future municipal action. Each area will develop as a single entity. Each will continue to be governed by its own elective council and to work out its own destinies.

The vote followed a survey of the contiguous municipalities carried out by a national firm of consulting engineers. The firm's report made forecasts of future development in the two areas. It will be interesting, as the years unfold, to note whether these forecasts were reasonably accurate or far from the mark.

Putting of the referendum before the ratepayers was unquestionably a wise move. Only in that way could the wishes of the people be made manifest. The green light has been given to the orderly development of the two municipalities and we wish them both well in their future careers. During the weeks which preceded the presentation of the referendum, this newspaper devoted countless columns of space to the views of various commentators. We are always happy to fulfill our role as a sounding board to the opinions of our readers.

Now that it has been determined beyond a shadow of a doubt that the two areas will continue separately, both municipalities are immediately plunged into an election campaign. Date of the annual municipal elections is Saturday, Dec. 9. Announcement is made in The Review's columns this week that both Mayor A.W. Freeman and Reeve J.B. Cumming will seek re-election. Two years ago Mayor Freeman was elected by a landslide majority and has presided over a very smooth council since that time. Reeve Cumming was unopposed at the same time and gained election by acclamation. For the past two years he has devoted his full time to the reeveship and has been warmly commended for the representation he has given North Saanich in many different fields. As a retired general contractor, he saved the municipality a substantial sum in supervising the reconstruction of the new municipal hall on Mills Road. The reeve's candidature will have much to commend it.

Besides the municipal heads, terms of three North Saanich councillors and two Sidney aldermen expire this year. Both elections should be very interesting ones.

APPRECIATIVE
I would like to express my appreciation of the thoroughness and fairness shown by The Review in presenting the arguments and viewpoints of our citizens on the issue of Amalgamation.
Although the referendum clearly indicated that the residents of neither community felt that we are ready to commit ourselves to political amalgamation, the discussions prior to the vote demonstrated a growing awareness of the interdependence of the two communities, and the economic desirability of co-operation in the day to day municipal operations.

Discussions prior to the referendum also served a useful purpose in exposing the basic personal attitudes and objectives of the members of our respective councils and prospective candidates in the forthcoming election, with a degree of clarity which is not usually achieved in the ordinary campaign speechmaking. This is potentially the greatest benefit of the recent referendum.

DEFENDS TEENAGERS
In the October 11th issue of the Review, there appeared, on the front page, an item headed "Two Car Mishap", which went on to say, "Two juveniles were the drivers of cars which met almost head-on".

As I happen to know that the driver who was charged in this accident is an adult, I feel I must 'stand up' and say so.
I wonder how many people read that article and immediately thought, "Oh, these crazy teenagers. They should not be allowed on our highways." I know of several who did exactly that, and will honestly admit my own thoughts would have been the same, had I not known differently.

It seems that, due to the guilty party's occupation, it was deemed inadvisable to have his name appear in print, therefore the easy way out was to hide behind the guise of 'juvenile'. Please do not misinterpret this next - I am making no accusations, merely stating the obvious - but I would think this man should have carefully considered the possible consequences before getting behind the wheel of a car over which he apparently did not have complete control. As he obviously did not do so, then should he not stand up like a man and take his due punishment? I might add that this man has not even had the common decency to inquire as to the health of those youngsters whom he could so easily have injured much more seriously.

Now can we adults hope to command respect from our young people if this is an example of how we crawl out from behind a difficult situation? Fortunately, I believe most of us realize this is the exception, rather than the rule, or surely we would be ashamed to have to admit to being a member of the adult society.

I feel an apology is due our youngsters, and what better way than through the medium of the paper in which, through no fault of its own, the erroneous story was printed.

Finally, let me say "Three cheers for our young people!"
Although a good many of them know the true facts of this incident, I have not heard a single one complain about their generation having to shoulder the blame for them is deeds of a snivelling adult. I wonder what the reaction would have been had the shoe been on the other foot!

National War Memorial in Ottawa on November 11, the ceremony will be much more personal this year. The nation will be remembering two of his brothers; symbols of the nation's war dead.
It will be watching his mother,
the symbol of Canadian motherhood, as she places one of the official wreaths.

Captain Adams is one of the seven sons who served in the army. His father, C.W. Adams, served in WWI. Two sons were killed within a two-month period in 1944. Four of the sons were with the Lincoln and Welland regiment.

Mrs. Elsie Adams, Mother Catharines, is the 13th mother from outside the Ottawa area to be selected by the Royal Canadian Legion to represent Canadian motherhood at its National Remembrance Ceremony. Both her sons were killed following the invasion.

Lieut. William Adams was killed in Normandy on August 15.
This was the time of bitter fighting around the Falaise. He was killed at a Canadian cemetery south of Caen.

As Canadians moved upwards in 1944, they were heavily engaged in clearing the Scheldt Estuary. Sgt. Allan Adams was killed in this area on September 27th.
He is buried in Adagam cemetery in Belgium.

Mrs. Adams will be accompanied by her husband C.W.
Adams. While in Ottawa they will be guests of the Royal Canadian Legion. They will have tea with the Governor-General and Mrs. Michener, and will also be luncheon guests of General J.V.
Allard, Chief of Defence Staff.

The Adams family has long been musical as well as service-minded. Three of them combined these interests by serving in the army as bandmen. The father was a bandmaster with the 1st Infantry Battalion in France in WWI. Captain Charles Adams is director of music for the Canadian Guards at Petawawa.
He will be in charge of music at the National Remembrance Ceremony on November 11. A younger brother, Norman Adams, served as a bandman during WWII in the militia.

Charles, Roy, Allan and William Adams all served with the Lincoln and Welland. Ernest was with the Royal Canadian Electrical and Mechanical Engineers. The youngest of the seven brothers is Staff-Sgt. Colin Adams who is now in Germany with the dental corps. Roy, Ernest and Norman now live in St. Catharines.

Meditation (FROM EVERY DAY)

FAVOURITISM

Read: Genesis 37:3-11

EARLIER chapters (27-28) show how quarrelling began between Jacob and Esau. Jacob was his mother Rebekah's favourite.
Esau the elder of the two, had the legal right to his father's blessing, and Jacob won it by trickery and deceit.

Now Jacob is old, and has settled in the land of Canaan with all his family, his flocks and herds. Of all the sons of Jacob, Joseph is the favoured one. And again it works for trouble and bitterness among the family.

Joseph's dreams seem to tell that he, so far the youngest, would one day be at the head of the family and a great ruler.
No wonder the brothers hated him.

But there is a difference between playing favourites and seeing a leader in the making. Jacob should not have put one son over the others. A good parent loves all his children, each in different ways and yet all the same. The parent let their weaknesses blind them to the greatness of their brother.
They let it go so far that they thought of murder.

REVIEW BOOK REVIEW

BY JAN GOULD

BURNS AND HIS BONNIE
JEAN. Gray's Publishing, Sidney
B.C., $4.50:

At this year's Universal Congress of Writers sponsored by the Canadian Authors' Association, an astute observer commented that the average Canadian author seemed to be a woman, in her late sixties, who wrote only for church publications.

It's interesting to note then that "Burns and his Bonnie Jean" was written by a former president and longtime CAA member who fits into the first category and could admit to being in the second. Author Yvonne Helen Stevenson definitely avoids the third category by producing her entertaining but earthy book.

Miss Stevenson is a great, great-grandmother of Bonnie Jean Armour. She spent a decade probing ancestral memories, records and letters. A Victoria resident, she was goaded into doing more research on her book whenever she passed the small bronze statue of Burns and Highland Mary in Beacon Hill Park.

The author is able to write of the racy needs of the ploughman poet without moralizing or making judgments. Jean Armour, the only woman to earn Burns' ring and who was mother of nine of his children, is shown as that rare personality - an unselfish artist's wife. She had the maturity and the courage to accept her husband's constant search for attention, flattery, intellectual exchanges and fame which he found elsewhere. When her family finally permitted her to marry him conventionally after two 'on paper' marriages, she provided Burns with a well run household and the harmony he needed.

MUTUAL RESPONSIBILITY AND INTERDEPENDENCE OUTLINED

At a recent service the congregation of Saint Mary Magdalene Anglican Church on Mayne Island heard a most instructive and interesting account of a Missionary Project to Jamaica by Miss Marian Jakeway of Vancouver whose parents have a summer home on the island.

The incentive for this mission arose from the Mutual Responsibility and Inter-relationship Document of General Synod held in Toronto 1963. The general principle was for peoples of different countries to work and learn together the solutions to many problems, not just missions to a country. The Jamaican and Antiguan Churches requested assistance in establishing summer vacation schools similar to those in Canadian churches. Jamaican churches needed young Canadian church members to work with Jamaican young adults in running the schools. In this way real understanding, not a mere report by a strange person, would become possible.

This summer two work parties, one to Jamaica and one to Antigua, were provided. Ten young people and two leaders went to Antigua, and 19 young people and three leaders went to Jamaica, which included Miss Jakeway.

The Jamaican group was composed of 15 young women and four young men all over 18 and three leaders with at least High School graduation. Some were college students. The team left Toronto on June 30, 1967, landing at Montego Bay about 9 p.m., in the dark, worried about customs, baggage and a place to sleep. A group of smiling Jamaican hosts and hostesses solved all problems by picking up the luggage and taking the young people to their homes.

First work project began three days later on Monday morning, since the schools remained open until the middle of July. The location was Granville, a low income area. A club house, 18' x 20', with a cement floor, steel wall supports and corrugated zinc and iron roof, took a week to build, during which time the group had a glimpse of living conditions. Work day started with a worship service. Then work with many children in khaki shirts and shorts in need of repair and bare feet as an audience instead of attending school. But soon the boys were running the hose and carrying the cement. The Jamaican foreman, Mr. Clark, answered the unspoken question, "Are we really accomplishing anything more than constructing a building?" when he remarked, "It is the first time I have seen people who would worship in a church and then go out and do manual labour." At the end of two work projects the group teamed up with 18 Jamaican young people for a week's conference to plan the program for the following four weeks of vacation schools.

The Negul Youth Conference Centre is largely financed by Canadian funds. Located at the western tip of the island it is being built on drained marsh land. The area is being opened up by the government as a tourist attraction because of the white, sandy beach. The Diocesan Youth Camp owns three acres, not waterfront property, but has access to the beach. The building, which can accommodate 40 comfortably, has boys' and girls' dormitory, kitchen facilities, staff quarters and a common room used for dining and discussions. At present the ground is swampy but is gradually being filled. The camp can be used the year round.

The Jamaican A.Y.P.A. raised considerable funds for this project along with $20,000 given or promised by the Canadian Church to pay off the debt, a further example of mutual responsibility and inter-dependence in action. From two different countries, cultures, sitting down together, around tables, over meals, on bunks, discussing a common object, working towards a common goal. Also the Canadians provided some of the program ideas, experience, some materials such as pictures and construction paper. The Jamaicans gave knowledge of their country and the children's background in regard to effective teaching symbols. Teaching is by rote with 60-100 in a single class. Births outside marriage are as high as 70% making Our Father in the Lord's Prayer have no meaning to many children.

M.R.I. involved the whole community - billets, meals, housing, buildings for school, teaching material and refreshments for the mid-morning snack. Generally two Jamaicans and two Canadians were responsible for the vacation school. The aim was to make the children a full part of the Church. Sunday School was usually in the afternoon apart from the Church service. The children knew the Ten Commandments and Scripture verses. The problem was to make this knowledge mean something living under such conditions.

Children's Worship Service was suited to children including known hymns and Bible stories; simple prayers; classes and handicrafts; refreshments; games learning how to play together; closing.

Extra activities were numerous with varying grades of fun and relaxation. Meeting other members of the community; an occasional A.Y.P.A. meeting, parties and dances; Brotherhood of St. Andrew's group supper of Jamaican curried goat and rice dish; extra trips to sugar plantation or other local industry are good examples. Getting up at 5 a.m. to attend a Sunday school picnic, or rising at 5.30 a.m. Sunday morning for the well attended main church service of the day demanded discipline after a busy Saturday evening.

"The smiles and words of welcome indicated the older people in the communities were anxious to get to know the Canadians. Slowly we began to understand Mutual Responsibility and Inter-dependence was not a formal document or a program - it was personal. These smiles and words of welcome were say-

Miss Melody Dyer is spending a holiday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hal Dyer, from her work in Vancouver.

Mrs. F.E. Robson is back home to Galiano following an exciting trip to "Expo 67" with her friend, Miss Mona Hardy, of Crescent Beach.

Bill Campbell, of Bougey Bay, Minstrel Island, recently spent a week visiting Mr. and Mrs. E.W. Lee. Bill is a popular former Islander, and visited many of his friends during his visit "back home".

Max Hillary, of Salmon Arm, recently spent several days visiting Mr. and Mrs. J.F. Jones. Mr. and Mrs. G.W. Georgeson, Sr., of Sidney, came to Galiano last week to take care of their grandchildren, Rosemary, Gordon, John and Stuart Georgeson, while George and Rosemary went for a short holiday to Vancouver.

Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Bennett, of St. Mary's Lake, Salt Spring Island, flew over in their small aircraft to visit Tom Carolan at Peaceful Valley Ranch one fine sunny day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Pugh, of Victoria, spent the last weekend with Mr. and Mrs. George Newton.

John Hawthorne spent several days last week visiting friends in Vancouver.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Laughlin have left Galiano for the coming two years, which they plan to spend in Montreal.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Wilson, of Ladner, spent several days visiting brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Wilson.

ing, "I want to be part of the friendliness surrounding M.R.I. which is not a program between two countries but an exchange between people. The working and learning envisaged in Toronto had happened. Nowhere was it more obvious than in our own group of 22 Canadians and 18 Jamaicans," said Miss Jakeway.

"We had shared ideas for planning, running Vacation Schools. But it did not stop there. During the times the 40 of us were together we had worked together to plan hikes, skit nights, newspapers and worship services. Generally when we were together small groups would plan our Morning and Evening devotions. Frustrations were worked out. Using prayers and lessons thought appropriate we wrote down our own short but meaningful prayers. The prayers used often came from our hearts - for loved ones in Canada and Jamaica; for the courage to face new situations and the wisdom to handle them; at the last service for the continuation of M.R.I. when we had returned home, realising it must be practised in our own communities.

"Prejudices and misunderstanding in our own society are hard to see but they exist. Also we knew now that one does not have to be engaged in a special work party to be engaged in M.R.I. but rather wherever people are, there Mutual Responsibility and Inter-dependence should be the aim of all communal life."

MAYNE ISLAND COUPLE MARRIED ON MAINLAND

Lesley Lillian Ross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Ross of Mayne Island and Douglas Ralph DeRousie, son of Mr. and Mrs. John DeRousie also of Mayne Island were united in marriage, Saturday, October 21st in Highlands United Church, North Vancouver. Rev. Ernest Rands officiated at the double ring ceremony in a setting of candle light and white chrysanthemums.

The dark haired bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an A-line gown of peau de faulle with lace bodice and matching coat. Lesley's beautiful wedding dress was enhanced by her head piece which consisted of a garland encircled by pearls to which a chapel length veil was attached. She carried a bouquet of white rose buds and white carnations.

Maid of honor, Islay Lloyd, wore an Empire gown of shrimp crepe with chiffon panel in back forming a train. She wore a matching tiara and carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums. The reception was held at Frank Baker's Capilano Gardens at which Edward Morson, Lesley's uncle, proposed the toast to the bride. Among the 85 guests were members of the immediate family which included grandparents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Morson of Cherry Tree Bay, Mayne Island. Other members of the family were from Comox, Victoria, North Vancouver, Vancouver and Mayne Island.

Before leaving for their honeymoon in the Interior Lesley donned a green tweed dress which she made herself, topped with a camel hair coat with matching accessories and a corsage of bronze chrysanthemums.

The bride and groom will make their home in Burnaby. TWO-WAY VISION -- Swimming along in fresh water without spectacles, the anaples, a tropical fish, is truly a four-eyed specimen. This live-bearer, which sometimes grows a foot long, has unusual divided vision. Its eye resembles that of a frog, except that the upper portion is adapted for sight in the air, while the lower is for vision in the water.

Extension of the power supply through the Indian Reserve to the East Point area of Saturna Island was urged by a recent delegation received by the Hon. R.G. Williston, Provincial Minister of Lands, Forests and Water Resources. Spokesman for the delegation of island residents were James Money and Mr. and Mrs. Ritchie.

There has been a strong effort to acquire sufficient qualifying credits for the extension, said Saanich and The Islands M.L.A. John D. Tisdalle, who accompanied the delegation. He reported that the minister gave a sympathetic hearing to the submission, which pointed a tying together of interests to ensure a large enough participation. A power supply would facilitate the development of East Point lots, and would be of advantage to the department of transport light-house which now is serviced by a diesel power plant, said Mr. Tisdalle.

PENDER

Mrs. Mary Allan is home again, having returned from an enjoyable visit to visit friends in Vancouver and West Vancouver.

Mrs. Paul Estelle is home again, too, having had a nice week-end in Vancouver.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Preston and their daughter have been over, from Vancouver, to attend to the burning and clearing program which is pretty general right now on the island.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Holland and their friends are house-guests of Jill's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Cunliffe. They came over from Burnaby for the week-end.

Mrs. I. Christianson, at Lisson Grove, had Mrs. P. Field, a teacher from Courtenay, as a house-guest at Lisson Grove with Mrs. J. Peters.

Twenty six children enjoyed a Halloween party at Waterloo on Nov. 30th. This was followed by a program of fireworks at Kent's Store, so they all had fun.

Bishop M. Coleman, and Mrs. Coleman, are home at Windsong again, after a trip to Texas, Georgia and Regina. The Bishop was very busy on his mission trip and they are glad to be home again.

KELLY'S CORNER

On The Island Of Saturna

Autumn is officially here once Halloween has made its debut. It's the time when the leaves bid the trees adieu. It's the fiery hued staircase to Winter - that season of restful hibernation where all plants, trees, and creatures renew themselves for the gloriously vibrant rebirth called spring. And it has a nostalgia all its own.

Halloween on Saturna was a memorable event. The party at hall was introduced by way of a good hot supper. Then came time for the promenade of prizes. The judges had a difficult time of it, I'm afraid, as the costumes were imaginative and hilarious. For those who didn't dress up for the occasion there was a penalty. Some had to dance the Highland fling, or sing a song, and one very esteemed gentleman had to get down on his haunches and bark like a dog. Our very humorous Minister, Mr. Dangerfield came dressed as the Devil and when I remarked on it, he replied with a twinkle in his eye, "Well, someone said, if you can't lick 'em, join 'em!" They were all good sports.

Fireworks on the school grounds rounded out this evening and youngsters went home thrilled to the marrow! It will soon be Remembrance Day and my heart goes out to those relatives who lost someone previous to them. I know this day serves the purpose of remembering. For some it will be re-opening the wound of sorrow. My heart goes out also to the men that are fighting right now in a controversial war that could in time, affect all of us. We are remembering the men who died, maybe we should also remember the men who are fighting and who are still alive, today.

Many songs of praise have been written around Nature, but it's playing a cruel joke this season. We had such a hot dry summer that my plants didn't fare any too well and I had in fact, given up on some of them. Then the rains came. My nasturtiums are blooming, there were even a couple of roses on the bush, beans are sprouting up that I don't even remember planting. Everything seems to have been revitalized, only to wither away at the first advent of frost! Doesn't seem cricket, does it?

Don't throw up your hands in despair, but you know, very soon we're going to be deluged with Christmas plans. It's not too far away. You only have another three weeks or so to send mail overseas.

On Saturday, Nov. 11th, remember:

"These heroes are dead. They died for liberty - they died for us. They are at rest. They sleep in the land they made free, under the flag they rendered stainless, under the solemn pines, the sad hemlocks, the tearful willows, the embracing vines. They sleep beneath the shadows of the clouds, careless alike of sunshine or storm, each in the windowless palace of rest. Earth may run red with other wars -- they are at peace. In the midst of battles, in the roar of conflict, they found the serenity of death". Robert G. Ingersoll - Vision of war.

PASSCHENDAELE CARNAGE OF 50 YEARS AGO RECALLED BY COUNCILLOR

To those who are old enough to remember it scarcely seems possible that the bloody battle of Passchendaele was fought 50 years ago. In this week of Remembrance its anniversary has a very special significance.

One who has every reason to recall the scene of horror and slaughter is Central Saanich Councillor C.W. Mollard. At 7 a.m. precisely, on November 6, 1917, he was hit by high explosive fragments while in charge of his gun. He had then served on the Western Front for 18 months. Number two on the gun crew was hit also as he stood only four feet away. This had come into the line only two hours previously, at 5 a.m.

"Yes, it was really something!" said Councillor Mollard, a statement which may be considered excessively mild in the context of the official record of the carnage of that tremendous battle, fought in a sea of mud.

Councillor Mollard recalls the appalling conditions most vividly. With an Imperial battery on the right, his unit the 46th Queen's University Battery, Canadian Field Artillery, handled the guns on emplacements of liquid mud, with the actual water table no more than two feet below the surface.

The shells were stacked in rows nearby, with sandbags between each row and covered to keep them clean. Their only communications across the sea of slush were plank roads and duckboards. Cover or shelter there was none.

Ironically enough, the wretched condition of the battlefield probably saved his life. Enemy precession shells which normally would explode on impact with the surface did not do so in the mire of Passchendaele. Instead, the shells, first penetrated the mud before exploding, and the fragments then shot up funnel fashion to somewhat limit the area of devastation. The recollection of the moment as he was hit was of the burning fuzzi on the sandbags shielding the shells.

Councillor Mollard was awarded his ticket to Blighty and saw no more of the Western Front, but for him it was not the end of hostilities. After hospital treatment and convalescence in the Aldershot area he was embarked on the ill fated expedition to Archangel and the White Sea wastes of North Russia.

It was a motley army with which he was now associated. Imperial and Canadian troops, men of the Detroit Regiment, and he particularly remembers a unit of the French Foreign Legion, fresh from the heat of Algiers, and who now did not seem to present much of a threat to the Bolsheviks as they painfully suffered the rigors of tempest and freezing cold in the waters around the North Cape. The rigors of the 10-day cattle boat passage from Dundee to Archangel were beyond description, recalls Councillor Mollard.

The abortive campaign against the Reds languished on many months after the armistice of November 11, and he fought in that dreary terrain, with the temperature sometimes 70 below zero for another 10 months.

At last came the moment of return, and another tempestuous voyage around the North Cape, through the ice floes and in the roughest weather. The ship carried lumber and the cargo below decks has shifted. Moreover, one of the three propellers had been damaged and the shaft sawn off, making the steering a matter of extreme difficulty.

The North Sea, on its worst behaviour, gave the ship's company a tossing that Councillor Mollard will never forget, and it was not made any easier by an order that all must stay below deck for the voyage.

The thinning ranks of the veterans of World War I are still apt to dwell on the lighter side of their experiences at their annual gatherings. They revive memories with song and anecdote, and make light of the grim realities which all must have experienced at one time or another. To the younger generations it is all so long ago, but Remembrance Day brings a salutary reminder that the romance of war disappeared for ever sometime between August 4, 1914, and the Battle of Mons.

BRENTWOOD

A bright November day brought a good crowd of friends of the Brentwood Memorial Chapel to the A.C.W. Christmas tea and bazaar held in the Womens Institute Hall on Saturday, November 4. The tea was opened by Archdeacon E.H. Maddocks, and guests were received by Mrs. Maddocks and Miss Esther Howard, president of the Afternoon Branch. Christmas decorations made the hall most attractive and festive, the same theme being carried out for the tea tables. Members of the Afternoon Branch were kept busy at the well-laden stalls, and the tea was convened by members of the Evening Branch.

Reflections From the Past (TAKEN FROM THE EARLY FILES OF THE REVIEW)

5 YEARS AGO

Runway extension at Patricia Bay Airport was christened last week when a light aircraft inadvertently landed on the new section before it was ready for use. Fortunately, the surface of the extension had been finished and workmen were engaged in installation of lights at the side of the runway.

One of Sidney's historic old buildings was moved last week and will assume an entirely new role. It was the old customs building on Third St., erected by the late J.J. White in 1914. The structure, which was found to be perfectly sound, was moved to a new location near Clair Downey's service station.

10 YEARS AGO

Saanich School District is to evaluate needs of the district immediately with a view to preparing plans for new school buildings and the ultimate presentation of a new building by-law.

The new centennial park on Wallace Drive, Saanichton, has been cleared and levelled and is now seeded down to grass. Drilling of the well is to be commenced in the near future, when a rig is available.

25 YEARS AGO

The public of this district will have the opportunity of viewing the Canadian Legion Surgical Van that has been turned over to the Red Cross for operation for the duration of the war. It will be on view on Saturday, at Saanichton, at the Post Office, at 2:15 p.m., and at Sidney, at the Post Office at 3 p.m., when all interested should make a point to be on hand to see this unit of the Red Cross.

Ray's Tavern, that new, up-and-coming eating establishment in Sidney, had added a large, new dining room to take care of the ever-increasing number of patrons to their popular "eat-orium."

45 YEARS AGO

The fortnightly card party held under the auspices of the West Saanich W.I. at their hall on Wednesday was well attended and a very jovial evening resulted. First prizes were won by Miss Gladys Guy and Miss Ursula Starling, Mr. S. Fox and Mr. C. Hammond.

We have received complaints regarding the Review reaching the subscribers on the Islands very late. This is not our fault as the Review is published at 1 o'clock every Thursday and is in the post office not later than 4 o'clock of the same day. We will take up the question with the postal authorities.

On their return journey they spent a few days in Toronto where they visited both Mr. MacDonald's sister and Mrs. MacDonald's sister.

Mrs. Palmer Bunness has returned to her home at 1177 Clarke Road after spending three weeks' holiday in Eastern Canada. Mrs. Bunness was joined by her sister in Toronto, and they spent an interesting holiday at Expo. She later visited other relatives in Toronto, Oakville and Winnipeg.

The traditional Old Boys Memorial Service will be held at the Brentwood College Memorial Chapel on Sunday, November 12, at 11 a.m. About 70 boys from Brentwood College and their masters will be in attendance. The guest speaker will be Bishop Calvert.

McLellan Completes Long School Service

After spending about a quarter of a century as superintendent of schools, F.A. McLellan completed his duties with School District No. 63 (Saanich) on October 31st.

Mr. McLellan came well qualified for his positions. He holds a B.A. from U.B.C., his Master's degree from the University of Washington and B.P.Ed. (in education) from the University of Toronto. He commenced his teaching duties as principal of Slocan City school, then went to Trail where he was principal of the East Trail school. From there he went to Creston as principal and then taught in Vancouver at junior and senior high school levels in a school with two thousand students. From there he moved to Ocean Falls as supervising principal of elementary and high school.

Commencing his quarter of a century as superintendent of schools, he was appointed inspector of schools at Peace River (Prince George West); then followed Trail and, when residing at Kamloops he covered Birch Island, Barriere, Ashcroft, Lillooet, Williams Lake, and the Chilcotin. During his period as district superintendent, he travelled by automobile, horseback, carriage, sleigh, airplane, canoe and small power boats, (as well as ferries). Also, during this time, on occasions he faced sub-zero temperatures, ice and snow, fire and flood. His further service as district superintendent of schools included Sooke, Cowichan, Saanich and the Gulf Islands.

Always a keen student of education, especially progressive education, he has given much support and encouragement to implementing into local schools the most modern concepts of instruction. During his period with Saanich School District, with the help of a progressive School Board and many competent staff members (especially the principals), the following progressive steps were taken: A large centralized senior secondary school at Claremont; an excellent occupational program at Mount Newton Jr. Secondary; a special class for disturbed children at Sevenoaks; kindergarten classes for all eligible pupils in Saanich; the complete integration of Indian children into the kindergarten classes; two classes for slow learners, one primary and the other intermediate; a second class for moderately disturbed pupils; a remedial class for pupils requiring special attention; and a class using the initial teaching alphabet.

Mr. McLellan was responsible for introducing into one of his schools the first initial teaching alphabet class west of Winnipeg. Since that time the initial teaching alphabet has been introduced into many other schools in this province.

A separate class for Grade 1 boys was also begun, as was a completely individualized reading program in one of the elementary schools; an open-area in one of the schools to introduce the new ungraded school concept and continuous progress; the appointment of an art and music co-ordinator to promote more effectively the instruction of art and music at these levels; full-time librarians at two elementary schools; and special counselling services.

In acknowledgment of Mr. McLellan's successful work as district superintendent, he was honored by such groups as: board of school trustees of School District No. 63 (Saanich); Saanich Teachers' Association; School District No. 64 (Gulf Islands); secondary principals; staff of School District No. 63 (Saanich); elementary principals and others.

Mr. McLellan's experience will not be lost to the schools in the province as he has accepted a position with the Department of Education in Victoria.

ORLANDO, Fla. - Bulldozers came to the rescue..of another bulldozer here. A 25-ton bulldozer, costing approximately $7,500, plunged into Lake Ivanhoe after falling from a man-made peninsula extending from the north side of the lake.

Work on Interstate 4 project was stopped as three other bulldozers were called in to pull the half submerged vehicle to safety. Owner Bill Crawford said, "We're lucky it didn't sink to the bottom of the lake."

Air Cadet Corner

At the beginning of each training year, the supply officer of any Air Cadet squadron is probably the one who has more worries than any one.

Not only is he faced with the responsibility of finding uniforms for new recruits, but the cadets he outfitted the previous year have already outgrown their uniform jackets, trousers and shoes.

F/O Allen Alexander has been faced with this problem since becoming No. 676 Squadron's supply officer in January, 1964. An additional problem he faced this year was the enrolment of 13-year-old cadets, for which the R.C.A.F. supply depots were not equipped. These small size uniforms have, however, been on order for some time, and the squadron hopes parents of these boys -- and the boys themselves -- will understand and bear with it for just a little longer.

F/O Alexander's son Douglas was one of the squadron's first cadets, and in 1961, was awarded the Kinsmen's Award as the squadron's top senior NCO. Doug is at present attending university in North Carolina and studying for his master's degree in mathematics.

SOCCER TEAMS WIN TWO AND LOSE TWO

Peninsula soccer teams won two games and lost two in Saturday's action. The ideal weather conditions brought a good turnout of parents to support the boys, especially at the first game of the season for the Rovers, who opposed Elk Lake at the high school. Elk Lake proved to be the stronger team winning 3-0 but the local boys showed promise and will undoubtedly improve in the near future.

The Cougars scored twice in each half of play to beat Oldfield Service at Sansha. It was a 2-2 tie at half time but after the interval the Cougars kept up a constant attack to tally twice more to win 4-2.

The Thistles treated Gordon Head Machinists to a great exhibition of team work as they blanked them 7-0 at the high school. Thistles have made a habit of shutting out the opposition recently but most of their success is due to the fine team work.

The Tigers lost by the odd goal of three when they met Quigg's Builders in Saanich. In an evenly played match which might have gone either way the luckless Tigers were pipped by the Saanich team 2-1.

Sidney United have had no trouble with Lake Hill teams this year and this was again the case at the high school in division one action. Previously this season United beat Lake Hill 'B' 5-2 and on Sunday they overpowered the Lake Hill 'A' squad 6-0 as the ball was seldom in United's end of the field.

WIT'S END

I am strongly in favour of bilingualism even though in my own case some 14 years of trying to learn French failed to make me the slightest bit linguistic in that polished tongue. This was my misfortune, brought on largely through laziness, but it doesn't alter the fact that the knowledge of a second language is of benefit to any man, woman, or child, especially in a mixed up country such as ours. Personally I would like to see more French taught at an earlier age in the schools, as a cultural asset.

However, I do not like to see bilingualism used as a stall by cabinet ministers in Ottawa, and the one I am referring to is Mr. Teillet the Minister of Veterans' Affairs. He has apparently, refused to look at a report on the grievances of Canada's disabled war veterans, which has been prepared by Mr. Justice Wood of the Saskatchewan Appeal court until this report is translated into French, which it seems, is going to take many weeks.

Now one of the major grievances of this country's disabled veterans is on the inadequacy of their pensions, and Mr. Justice Wood was commissioned by the Government several years ago to enquire into this matter and suggest how these men might be given a fairer deal. Back in 1919, that incidentally was the year that the Liberals first promised medicare, it was decided to pay the men who had lost their legs or their arms or their eyes or their hearing, or had received some other terrible and disabling wound in the war, a pension based on the rate paid by the government to janitor's assistants in its employ, one of the lower categories in the civil service. Maybe this won't stand out in history as Canada's most generous repayment of a debt, but at least it was something, and it did create a standard of comparison for pensions.

Unfortunately, in the years since then the disabled veterans have fallen steadily behind in comparison to their running mates the janitor's assistants. While the incomes of both groups have increased slowly, the janitor's assistants have been far more successful in pressing their claims, so successful in fact that their wage is now about $1,200 a year more than the pension.

There are other injustices and discriminations as well, and it had been hoped that once the government received the Wood's report, which was naturally a long time in the preparing, and if they acted quickly, this group of veterans might look forward hopefully to a better deal. In this matter, some measure of deliberate speed might seem justified because the men from the first World War are now old, for some any redress will come too late, and few can hope to benefit for more than a comparatively short time. Therefore it was distressing to learn that this report, which has already been held by the government for some time, is gathering dust, and that the responsible minister doesn't intend to even look at it until it is translated into French, which will add weeks of delay.

If Mr. Teillet spoke no English there might be a reason for this tardiness, but he is in fact very bilingual. I listened to him speak at a veterans' convention and I just wish that I had the command of English that he showed. Even if it had been the case though that he only spoke French, the translation of a report should only have been a matter of days, not weeks and weeks. Why then the delay? Maybe I'm being cynical, but I can see only two possible explanations. It may be a stall, designed through long delays in translation and consideration to prevent any action for months, even years, or it may be a somewhat unfortunate attempt on this gentleman's part to publicize his views on bilingualism at the expense of disabled veterans, the very people he represents in the Cabinet.

Oh well, I bet Mr. Teillet will manage to make some really inspiring speeches, in both English and French, on Remembrance Day.

Rockhounds Meeting is Held

The regular monthly meeting of the Sidney Rock Club was held Thursday evening in the small hall of St. Andrew's Church. There was a good attendance of members and a new member was welcomed.

The evening was given over to reports of members who attended the gem show in the Show Mart Building at the P.N.E. in Vancouver. Four cases were on display and ten members were able to attend the show. Mrs. Doris Horton had a commercial stall as well.

The annual Christmas banquet and party was tentatively arranged for Dec. 9, and Mrs. C. Ward will be in charge of entertainment.

A display of fossils has been placed in the Sidney library. The door prize, presented by Mrs. Wing was won by the president, Chester Miller.

Weekend guests attending the Rock and Gem Show in Vancouver included Mr. and Mrs. Fred Tanton, Malaview Ave., Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Doran, Landis End Road and Mrs. Doris Horton, Seventh St.

Rock Club members going over for Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Fred St. Dennis, Mrs. Hazel Seoley, Saanichton, Walter Villers and Mrs. Doreen Miller, Mainwaring Road.

New Telephonic Procedure Will Be Introduced Here

Telephone information operators in Victoria will become "Directory Assistance" operators, effective December 1, the B.C. Telephone Company announced today.

On the same date, the new Victoria telephone directory comes into use.

G.F. MacFarlane, B.C. Telephone's vice-president of operations said today the change in procedure will mean that when customers in Greater Victoria dial 113 to obtain a telephone number, operators will answer with the phrase "directory assistance" rather than the word "information" which has been used in the past.

It also will mean that when providing the numbers requested the operators will use one of two phrases. When the requested number is listed in the new directory, the operator will state "That is a new number. It is (she'll give the number), would you care to make a note of it."

In order to make it easier for telephone customers to note these new listings and to keep handy the numbers they call frequently, Mr. MacFarlane said, the company will distribute with its November customer statements a directory assistance note card with space for these numbers.

Mr. MacFarlane said the procedure change is being introduced in Victoria on an experimental basis. If it proves satisfactory here, it will be adopted elsewhere in the system, with introduction times to coincide with publication of new customer telephone directories.

He said there are two basic purposes in introducing the new practice.

One is to draw attention to the fact that directory assistance is maintained to provide telephone numbers, not general information. Some customers have taken the word "information" literally with the result that operators are asked for all sorts of information other than telephone numbers.

"Our operators have had calls asking for the distance to the moon, for sport scores and store hours and even for information on whether a certain department store sells liver," Mr. MacFarlane said. "They are not permitted to provide this kind of information, even if they know the answers."

He said the other basic purpose for the new procedure is to try to check the rapid increase in volume of calls being made to directory information centres.

"The operators in our directory assistance centre in Victoria now handle an average of 11,000 calls a day," Mr. MacFarlane said. "This is more than double what it was five years ago, a growth rate much greater than that experienced in population and in the number of telephones in service."

Similar increases have been experienced elsewhere in the company's system and directory

MICHELL PROTESTS REVERSION MOUNT NEWTON CROSS ROAD

Suggestion of the provincial highways department that Mount Newton Cross Road, between Patricia Bay Highway and East Saanich Road, should revert to municipal control was stoutly resisted by Councillor T.D. Michell at the meeting of Central Saanich council last Monday.

Some months ago Central Saanich suggested that the general route from the highway to West Saanich Road by way of Mount Newton Cross Road and Wallace Drive should be classified as a provincial secondary highway.

Not so, replied the department, through senior maintenance engineer, J.A. Dennison. To the contrary, the Highway Board has indicated that the traffic does not warrant the requested classification.

It is stated "this route carried traffic which is destined to a point in the municipality. They have also recommended that the arterial classification of Mount Newton Road be cancelled."

"We have spent considerable money on the route. What has the department spent on Mount Newton Road?" asked Councillor Michell. "The section from the highway to East Saanich Road is a dangerous road," he insisted.

The departmental letter also indicated that the route from Patricia Bay Highway to Keating Cross Road by way of Telegraph Road, Saanich Cross Road and Central Saanich Road has been approved by the highway board and the minister of highways for classification as a secondary route.

Council supported Councillor Michell in his objections, and referred the matter to the works committee for a report before the next meeting.

SEEK POUND PROTECTION

The South Pender Community club, (Mrs. G. Bennett, president, and Captain V. Roddick, Secretary-Treasurer) are taking a noteworthy step forward, in their decision to apply for a Pound Law to be put in effect on South Pender. Sheep, (as well as the odd deer) have been running in droves along the roads, and everybody's gardens have been suffering from their encroachment. They are a traffic menace, to cars as well as to home-gardens.

Increase in human population on South Pender calls for this step, and the move seems a wise and inevitable step forward.

We should play, to live; not live, to play.

THE YOUNGEST SUNDANCER

Beating out a stirring rhythm even though he's only one and a half years old is Stephen Paul, son of Leonard Paul, right, who heads the internationally famous troupe of Indian Sun Dancers. The Brentwood group performed in their usually excellent fashion at the Peninsula Country Fair Saturday at Sanscha Hall.

Resident Of South Pender Dies In Sidney

The death occurred in Rest Haven Hospital on Nov. 6, of Mrs. Grace Teece, aged 74 years. She was born in Chicago, Ill. and was a long time resident of South Pender Island.

She leaves to mourn her husband John Herbert, South Pender Island; one son John Herbert Jr., Cowichan Station; six daughters, Mrs. W. (Marjorie) Murray, North Pender Island; Mrs. W. (Kathleen) Laird, Sidney; Mrs. E. (Esther) Menzies, Port Coquitlam; Mrs. E. (Edith) Simonsen, Salmon Arm, B.C.; Mrs. J.H. (Margaret) Arnes, Vernon, B.C.; Mrs. J. (Sarah) Marsh, McBride, B.C.; 27 grandchildren; 5 great grandchildren; one sister in Seattle; and one brother in Scotland.

Graveside services were held on Wednesday, November 8, 1967 at North Pender, Sands Funeral Chapel of Roses was in charge of arrangements.

Applications For Cultural Grants Invited By B.C.

Allocation of initial grants from the B.C. Government's new $5 million Centennial Cultural Fund is expected before the end of the year.

Hon. W.H. Murray, MLA for Prince Rupert and speaker of the House who is chairman of the Centennial Cultural Fund Advisory Committee which administers the fund, said applications for grants are being received up to the end of November and that the committee expects that first grants for 1967 will be dispensed by the end of December.

Legislation setting up the Fund was passed at the last session of the Provincial Legislature. Under its terms approximately $270,000 is being set aside for annual disbursement to cultural organizations in B.C.

Murray said that organizations wishing to apply for grants should write to the Centennial Cultural Advisory Committee, Parliament Buildings, Victoria, B.C.

He pointed out that the B.C. government has in the past made annual grants to major cultural organizations in the Province and that under the new fund, organizations which have special and outstanding projects designed to further B.C.'s cultural status will not only continue to receive financial support but may be eligible for additional assistance.

The fund committee is placing particular emphasis on the stimulation of native Indian art and culture.

Local community arts councils, where properly constituted, are eligible for annual grants from the funds, and Murray said that such councils are envisioned for each region or municipality of the Province to work closely with local governments and to act as a liaison with the fund committee.

The committee also expects to finance scholarships through appropriate organizations in the Province.

REV. FATHER SCHMIDT IS ACTIVE ON SALT SPRING

There seems to be some lively discussion groups on Salt Spring Island these days and most of it comes because there is a new and enthusiastic Roman Catholic priest who has taken over the R.C. Parish of Salt Spring Island. He is the Rev. Father Leonard Schmidt, who believes in action in the Church, out of the Church and wherever there are people.

At the recent meeting of the Catholic Young People, held at Our Lady of Grace Church hall in Ganges, the Teen Club sponsored a panel with the subject "Communications between parent and child" being thoroughly aired.

The decision given by the leader Tom Charbonneau that "There was no great problem in the area of communications", was supported by all the young people present.

"Even in a family where the parents and children rarely talk over problems together," observed the young spokesman, "the children will probably grow into responsible adults."

Three University of Victoria students took part in the panel, Jerry Moreau, third year, Tim Segger and Jim Helder, second year, Marcel and Yvette Blais of Ganges, were amongst the panelists.

Though they had issued invitations to young people in the Gulf Islands to challenge them on the subject under discussion, there was little audience participation. There was a large group of youngsters. The panel examined various features of growing up with interesting conclusions.

Rev. Father Schmidt had opened the discussion and Dr. R. B. Horsefield closed with prayer. Mrs. Gordon Simmons of Drake Road, Ganges, was the adult on the panel.

At the next meeting of the Teen Club, the panel discussion will be on "Youth and Law; Law and Youth". Cpl. F.C. Rhodes will be on the "hot seat." This takes place on Nov. 23, at 7 p.m., at the Anglican Parish Hall.

All denominations are invited and a dance and refreshments followed the interesting evening. Music was supplied by Tom Butler-Cole, Alf Bangert, and Ken Byron.

Luncheon Is Planned By Church Ladies

The regular monthly meeting of St. Paul's U.C.W. was held in the church hall on Wednesday, Nov. 1, at 1:30 p.m., with the president, Mrs. W. Veitch, presiding. A letter was read from the Director of the Board of Evangelism and Social Services in regard to the Parkville Conference, to be held Jan. 17 - Jan. 21, 1968, at The Island Hall Hotel, Parkville, with Dr. Lorne Halverson as speaker.

St. Paul's fall bazaar was discussed and the various stalls were allotted. Bazar Bay Unit reported that a parcel containing 46 hospital gowns had been mailed to Miss Beulah Bourns, in Seoul, Korea. The gowns were made from the white shirts which had been collected by the unit, the members of which wish to thank everyone who donated shirts and to inform everyone that the project will be continued. Shirts may be left at St. Paul's Church Hall.

The annual meeting will be held in the hall on Wednesday, December 6, at 1:30 p.m., to be preceded by a pot-luck luncheon at 12:30 p.m. All women of the congregation are cordially invited to attend. Election of officers for 1968 will take place.

PASSING OF LIFE MEMBER OF GANGES I.O.D.E. IS MOURNED

Two minutes silence was observed at Nov. 3 meeting of HMS Ganges chapter IODE in memory of a well loved life member of the Order, Mrs. W. M. Moutat.

Regent Mrs. F.K. Parker introduced new members Mrs. R. T. Meyer and Mrs. Alice Hammett, and conducted the ceremony whereby they were formally received into the chapter.

Services convener Mrs. Colin King asked members to do a little extra Christmas baking for Christmas hamper gifts. Small fruit cakes, puddings and packets of home made cookies will be welcomed.

Membership convener Mrs. George St. Denis, who had the good fortune to be present for IODE day at Expo, gave members an account of the thrilling experience. "Guests were welcomed in the Women's Lounge by the national president of the IODE, Mrs. J. Neil Gordon," she said. The days' program included an outstanding fashion show.

The chapter will take part in Remembrance Day parade to the Cenotaph. Members are asked to meet at Legion Hall at 10:30 a.m. or join the parade at some point near the Cenotaph.

"This is India" was the title of a paper read by world affairs convener, Mrs. Edwin Worthington. The paper told of India's progress toward achieving a democratic, united country in spite of many great problems. Religion and language are decisive forces. Food shortage is still critical in spite of greatly increased agricultural production. India's relations with the Commonwealth tend to go up and down according to her relations with Britain.

The regent gave a brief account of the provincial chapter semi-annual meeting at Duncan. Eleven members from HMS Ganges chapter were present for all, or part, of the two-day gathering. Mrs. Parker also mentioned that IODE calendars for 1968 are now available.

Following the meeting tea was served by Mrs. Joe Pitts and Mrs. Grant Cruickshank.

Steve Dorran New President

The annual meeting of the Saanich Peninsula 4-H Beef Club was held on November 1, at Mount Newton Jr. High School, and the following officers were elected:

There are fourteen Junior Leaders in the club.

SEATTLE, Wash. --- "I think love, patience and understanding are the key words," declared Mrs. John W. Tracy as she and her husband celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary. "Without these there can be no marriage--successful or unsuccessful."

W.E. Briggs Re-Elected Head Old Age Pensioners

Annual meeting of Sidney branch, Old Age Pensioners' Organization, was conducted on Thursday, Nov. 2 and drew a large attendance. President M. E. Briggs was in the chair and, after the singing of the opening hymn, Rev. C.F. Orman offered prayer.

The president called on the secretary, R. Thompson, to give his annual report on the condition of the branch, which was highly satisfactory both financially and numerically. During the past year many members had passed on and a number have left the district. Present membership is 300. Several excursions had been enjoyed during the year and the entertainment portion of the meetings was of high order. The Organization had spearheaded delegations to both federal and provincial cabinets seeking increased pensions.

The secretary noted that at present a dual organization is operating in Sidney. Plans are being formulated to bring all pension organizations into one body which would make the organization much stronger.

A hearty vote of thanks was extended to the secretary for his services during the past 11 years.

During the election of officers, Mr. Orman took the chair and Mrs. Bea Hadfield served as secretary. The following were elected: president, W.E. Briggs; vice president, Mrs. Janet Palmer; secretary, R. Thompson; treasurer, Mrs. E.L. Bird; Executive committee consists of: Mrs. Jean Kastoff, Mrs. Cora Powell, Mrs. Sylvia Ritchie, Mrs. Mary Briggs, Mrs. Edith Sumpston, Mrs. G.D. Burns, John Pearson, Jesse Sowbey. Sick visitor is Mrs. Sylvia Ritchie.

Plans were completed for the annual Christmas dinner and fancy dress party which will be held on Dec. 18 in the K of P Hall at 12 noon. Members may secure tickets from the secretary at 2308 Amelia Avenue or Phone 656-1723.

A flood in Hwang-ho, China, wiped out an estimated 900,000 lives in 1887.

POPPIES AND MAPLES

Sleep gently, soldiers-quiet-hush-And dream sweet dreams of bounteous Canada, Dear boys of ours, who with the victor's flush Died, worthy sons of Mother Canada!

The maples glow! They glow in pride, Remembering the sacrifice you gave! Two minutes' silence, kept Dominion-wide, Is but poor tribute to our soldiers brave!

Red popples bloom in Belgian fields, Are they an emblem of the blood 'I was shed, The fresh young blood on gory battlefields-Of our own boys, the popples, blooming red?

We lay a wreath upon the cenotaph Of scarlet popples and a maple leaf In your remembrance, as a sign of love, A token of our nation's heartfelt grief

Africa, Land Of Mystery

Africa, the land of mystery, the land of majestic wild animals, ancient tribal customs, breathtaking water falls and scenery, and yet it is also a land with large modern cities, elegant shops, and de luxe hotels.

So many people have been to Europe and enjoyed the castles, traditions and customs of these countries which have created the 'New World'. For many the question is where to go next? 'The Dark Continent' as Africa is so often referred to has caught the imagination of those looking for something different, and in its turn Africa has accepted the challenge and is ready to offer visitors a very unique vacation. The Kruger National Park in South Africa, the Masai Mara Game reserve in Kenya, the famous Treetops Hotel in Nairobi are just a few of the National Parks that are a must for any visitor to the large continent. For a really spectacular sight the Victoria Falls in Rhodesia with the rain forest, and Zambezi River is in itself worth flying thousands of miles for.

On the way home Casablanca, the largest city in Morocco, is a fascinating city where the East meets the West. Africa isn't on your list of places to visit? There are now some excellent tours from North America, it's the time to go, before this vast land becomes too popular.
